

Series: Inside God - The Attributes of Our Creator

Sermon: Independence

Bible Verses: Acts 17:22-31

By: Jeff Piepho

Date: 6-10-2018

God's incommunicable attributes: things that are _____ with humans

God's communicable attributes: things that are _____ with humans

We either _____ and understand God for who he really is, or we create a _____ version of God in our own heads.

One of God's incommunicable attributes is his _____.

God is completely autonomous and _____.

God created _____ that exists, except Himself, and lives _____ of our time and space.

_____. God is so independent he doesn't _____ from _____ or anyone else; on the contrary we all need him.

Before the world was even created God the Son (Jesus), God the Spirit, and God the Father all experienced _____ each other and friendship with each other. God was _____.

We should recognize that all the good we do and _____ we see is designed by God, accomplished through God's strength, and intended for God's _____.

How much does God love me? He is an independent God who needs absolutely nothing from _____, but he also thinks I am so exceptional that he _____ with delight (Zeph 3:17), and sent his son to die for me.

LEARN MORE: God is independent, but we are not. Did you know this is one way to prove God's existence? Learn: <http://truthrevolution.tv/audioarchives/a-thousand-crying-babies/>

Growth Group prep

- List one or two of the practical reasons this matters.
- In what ways have you ever implied that God needed something?
- Fill this in. The biggest needs I have now are _____, but God already has a solution.