Learning to handle correction well is one of the _____ I will ever learn.

Corrections _____ me and Discipline _____ me.

_____ correction is when we have a _____ to a potentially helpful critique.

Loving discipline* doesn't mean it always feels good.

It means that instead of _____ it _____.

Proverbs 12:1 is saying that loving discipline is virtually the _____ as loving knowledge!

Loving discipline is when we understand that _____ will come from accepting correction, so _____ ourselves to it.

When I'm being corrected by someone, I must remember:

Even if their _____ is off their _____ may be on.

CAUSES OF REFUSING CORRECTION:

- Assuming I'm _____
- Not _____
- Not _____ with those wiser than me

HOW TO LOVE DISCIPLINE:

- _____ more
- _____ instruction/teaching
- Find wise people and _____ with them
- Develop a willingness to _____ to others
- Have plenty of _____
- Seriously, _____ more.

We all should have _____ so our relationships, jobs, and especially Spirit will be better off in the long run, even if the discipline _____ at the time.
