If _____ tells me to _____ something, I better follow through.

Paul _____ from scripture, _____, and _____ things logically. These were "the words of God."

When someone claims to be giving words from God we must _____ and _____ what they are saying.

If we know something is _____, we should _____ it, meaning integrate it into our lives.

Whatever is " _____ " is the word of God.

If it's _____, follow _____.

Since all truth is _____, if a _____ says something true we should treat it as though it were God's own words (and take action).

Practical application:

1. We (especially those who preach and teach) should be much more careful with what we _____, since we should speak as though we are "sharing the very words of God."

2. We should be much more careful how we _____ to sermons and lessons, since _____ may be trying to speak to me through the preacher or teacher. It is _____ responsibility to follow through.
